

THE CUT

Sometimes I was able to obey the instructions

I had to be more a friend to my mother than a daughter; while that required sacrifice, it also bestowed on me a great privilege
The Awful Rowing Toward God. including the prestigious McLean Hospital in Belmont, Mass., closely affiliated with Harvard Medical School
Not when singing a song, not out loud, not in my head

I am afraid of cars especially on roads in the mountains
And i fantasise about plastic surgery
And i fantasise about being homeless

And she's less satisfied with what I can give her

And i fantasise about being harmless

And i left the vicinity so toxic with vinyl chloride, ammonia, mercury, naphtha and dioxin that pregnant women were directed to seek abortions, and local women were advised to avoid pregnancy for two years

And i fantasise about that very small realm
Of things in my direct power
The people who think of advantages
